

Treaty of Mutuality

State of Hokoria and Oligarch State of Curnon

This is an official Treaty of Mutuality between the State of Hokoria and the Oligarch State of Curnon. Both governments of the State of Hokoria and the Oligarch State of Curnon agree to follow the terms stated in this treaty.

Section 1

The governments of the State of Hokoria and the Oligarch State of Curnon agree to the recognition of each other's territory and the authority that they have within these territories. Additionally, both parties should recognise each other as independent, free and sovereign nations.

Section 2

The governments of the State of Hokoria and the Oligarch State of Curnon agree to the maintenance of relations and professional communication between each other. In order to achieve this, representatives should be appointed to represent the two states.

Section 3

The governments of the State of Hokoria and the Oligarch State of Curnon agree to the respect, participation and celebration of each other's national identities and cultures.

Section 4

The governments of the State of Hokoria and the Oligarch State of Curnon agree to the avoidance of micronational conflicts where the reputation of a party may be damaged. Additionally, both parties agree to the promotion of peace within the micronational community and a denouncement of micronational conflicts and war as a concept.

Section 5

Official representatives of the governments of the State of Hokoria and the Oligarch State of Curnon should ratify this treaty as according to their own national processes. This treaty should be in force until a party repeals the treaty, if a party becomes defunct or one or both parties cease to maintain relations.
